

ZIPPERFACE!!?! THE HOBO MUSICAL

www.whoiszipperface.com

Contact: David Rothstadt
E-mail: rbwcomedy@gmail.com
Day or Night: 201-396-6082

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RBW Comedy Presents:
ZIPPERFACE!!?!: THE HOBO MUSICAL

The New York International Fringe Festival - FringeNYC
A production of the Present Company
August 14th - 30th
Tickets: $15. For tickets visit www.FringeNYC.org

RBW Comedy is proud to present Zipperface!!?!: The Hobo Musical as part of the 13th annual New York International Fringe Festival - Fringe NYC. The musical comedy, penned by three recent Rutgers graduates, satirizes Broadway's current tendency to stray from original material in favor of crowd-pleasing Hollywood hits.

Set in a back alley in New Brunswick, NJ, the show follows a cast of charming hobos as they whimsically recreate and reinterpret the movie Zipperface, a little-known 1992 bomb. With a tattered screenplay as their only guide, the narrators tell the story of an S&M serial killer and the hapless but determined police department on his trail. As the hobos hijack material from an outside source, the audience experiences firsthand the problems that come with appropriation. A comical who-done-it brimming with red herrings, Zipperface!!?!: The Hobo Musical also features catchy tunes, robots and a dinosaur.

This show features Lauren Perri, David Rothstadt, J. Michael Polisano and Big Rich Armstead, among others. Zipperface!!?!... was written by David Rothstadt, Jon Bershada and Andy Wolf, is directed by Gregory Bing and is assistant directed by Jon Bershada, with musical arrangement and direction by Zachary Wiseley.

RBW Comedy consists of the writing team of Rothstadt, Bershada and Wolf, who, after meeting at Rutgers University and spending the past four years writing and performing sketch comedy together, decided to try their hand at a full-fledged musical. The on-campus success of the original Zipperface!!?!... inspired the group to submit the musical in a revised form to the New York International Fringe Festival.

###